

01 COPY ALL FINANCIAL AND LEGAL DOCUMENTS.

Finances are important in divorce. Copy important records before someone moves out or hides

02 FIND OUT EXACTLY WHAT YOUR SPOUSE EARNS.

If you think your spouse is trying to conceal money from employment, you must speak with a lawyer. Check paystubs, or track money flowing in for several months.

05 HIRE SPAR BERNSTEIN.

Call us today and we'll help protect your rights.

LEARN MORE
CALL US TODAY.

1-800-529-5465
1-800-LAW-LINK

Top 5 Things To Consider

BEFORE DIVORCE

03 GET AN IDEA OF WHERE YOU AND YOUR FAMILY STAND FINANCIALLY.

Take inventory of your own finances. Create a budget for yourself that reflects your current financial responsibilities.

04 TAKE THE HIGH ROAD.

Avoid petty fighting or involving children in disputes, both before you file for divorce and while your divorce is pending.

Meghan Buckwalter,
Matrimonial Law

Brad Bernstein,
President

Kristen O'Leary,
Matrimonial Law

info@lawsb.com | www.lawsb.com

*Attorney advertising. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome in the future. This infographic is informational only and not specific legal advice. Consult an attorney about your specific situation.

